

Industry Focus, Plastics Recruiter, Bottles Caps Closures, Headhunter

Why Choose LOOKSearches for your Recruiting Partner?

It is a question you must ask yourself. There are many recruiters out there.

We are not a resume factory. We take pride in not only our ethical standards and professionalism but also our pledge to provide you with value and respect to your human capital investment.

What we don't do is pressure either the client or the candidate. Our goal is a successful relationship between the employer and the prospective employee.

We only work with clients that are responsive, provide good communication, and want to work with us long-term. Feedback from both parties is the key to our successful relationship.

Before we commence a search assignment our Search Consultants take the time to fully assess your requirements down to the last detail. If we do not think that we can do an exceptional job for you in your search, we will tell you so you can consider other options.

In order to accomplish a successful search we get to know you. This understanding plus our relentless networking results in our being able to present you with the best possible talent in the shortest timeframe possible. Our myriad of contacts in the industry will uncover candidates from companies you may never even heard of.

We won't guarantee that we will fill every position. We will promise that we will strive to provide a value added and professional service to you!